Manufacturers Declaration

The Danfoss Group

Declare that to the best of our knowledge no stainless steel contaminated with Cobalt (60) from Indian manufacturers is used in any of Danfoss' products.

Danfoss has conducted a thorough investigation throughout the Purchasing Departments in all relevant Business Units manufacturing products in Europe, USA and Asia (including China). The investigation includes Business Units in all three Danfoss Divisions; Refrigeration & Air conditioning, Heating and Motion Controls.

All Business Units confirm that none of them purchase stainless steel or products from any of the Indian manufactures suspected of delivering contaminated steel.

Danfoss has therefore come to the conclusion that none of the company's products are contaminated with radioactive Cobalt (60).

Best regards
